

Cheri Christensen

Painting Light; Oil Painting in the Russian Impressionist Tradition

Join renowned artist Cheri Christensen for an immersive workshop focused on mastering the art of painting color and light. This workshop invites painters of all levels to explore the nuances of working with light and shadow, as well as understanding the intricate color relationships.

The main objective of the workshop is to enable participants to effectively capture the interplay of color and light in their paintings. Throughout the sessions, Cheri Christensen will guide you through techniques to keep your colors clean and your compositions dramatic, all while maintaining critical value and color relationships. The workshop welcomes artists to choose any subject matter they desire, allowing for a personalized and creative experience. You may bring your own photos for reference work.

Cheri Christensen brings over 30 years of expertise in the Russian Impressionist tradition to her teaching. Having studied under Ron Lukas, a protégé of Sergei Bogart, Cheri offers a deep well of knowledge and experience, making her an exceptional guide in this artistic journey.

Upon signing up for the workshop, participants will receive a supply list along with optional pre-homework of creating color charts for those eager to get a head start. The workshop is designed to be accessible to artists at any level, ensuring that everyone can benefit from Cheri's insight and instruction.

Prepare to embark on a transformative experience where you'll learn to infuse your paintings with light and color, making each piece a testament to your growth and newfound skills in the artistic domain.
